

SAVE COLLECTIVE BARGAINING:

Tell Congress to support the PROTECT AMERICA'S WORKFORCE ACT

On March 27, President Trump issued an executive order eliminating collective bargaining rights for hundreds of thousands of federal workers. The Protect America's Workforce Act is bipartisan federal legislation that restores the contracts and bargaining rights of unionized federal employees.

Call your representative and ask them to support and co-sponsor this bill.

An Attack on Federal Workers is an Attack on All Workers.

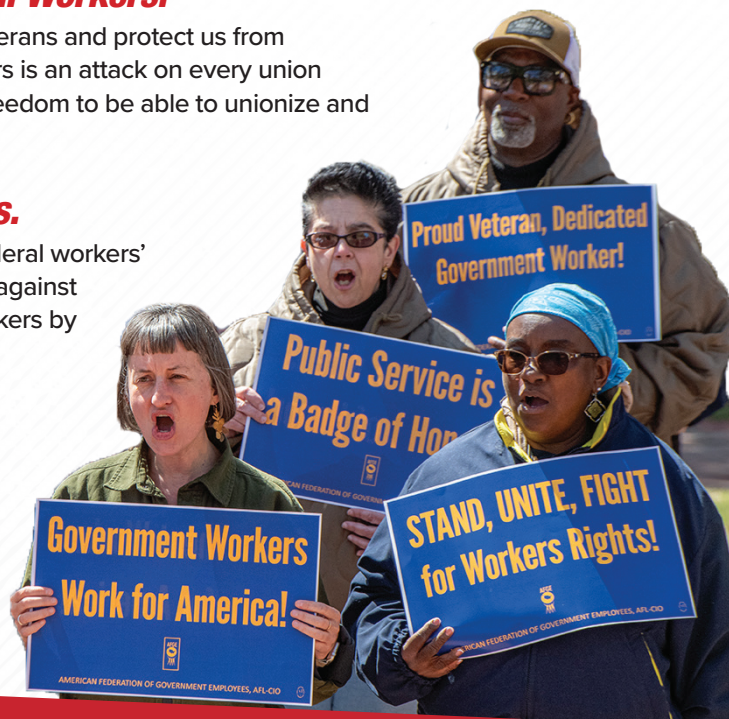

Federal workers make sure our food is safe to eat, care for our veterans and protect us from public health emergencies. Voiding the contracts of federal workers is an attack on every union worker, every union contract, and every worker who desires the freedom to be able to unionize and speak freely. Congress must protect workers' fundamental rights.

Executive Order Was Retaliation Against Unions.

The executive order states the real reason Trump is going after federal workers' collective bargaining agreements: the lawsuits filed by the unions against the administration after the massive unlawful firings of federal workers by Elon Musk's "DOGE."

Working People Deserve Protection.

The executive order is the biggest single act of union-busting in U.S. history. Military veterans, who risked their lives to defend our freedoms, are disproportionately affected by the loss of the right to collectively bargain. We need the Protect America's Workforce Act to restore these rights.
